

Fine ART Scheme of Learning

Year 11 – Terms 1&2

Intent – Rationale

Fine Art students will developed their knowledge of the fundamentals of design and have created successful projects that challenge the given brief, following specific guidelines and format. They will now use this knowledge and develop a project from the given starting points. This project will differ from their previous components as the given brief is only a starting point and students will have to develop their own project and show more independence. The brief comprises of six different starting points that are key areas of Fine Art, students will select a starting point and follow the guidance given. There will be a model of how the students should approach the project with the assessment objectives also made clear. The brief starting points will encourage students to look at cultural, social and moral issues that are apparent at this time.

Week	Assessment Objective	What should I make	Hints and Tips	Homework
Term One (2 nd Sept – 22 nd Oct) 1&2	A03	Choose a start point from the sheet and begin. Observe the world around you: Get to know your subject and draw/photograph subjects relevant to chosen question. Draw from real things - use a variety of media and techniques from direct observation - try stuff out to start with, keep it small. Make quick sketches and studies from different subjects. Photographs: Experiment / Play with the camera settings / subjects. Set up or just shoot some photos – have a purpose. Print out the best ones on a contact sheet to work from. Gather Sources: Use newspaper, magazine/tv imagery or information/words to explore ways in which to respond to the title.	Play with lots of possibilities – mind maps / visual mood board – idea pages/sketches, notes from presentation -use different materials to draw from direct sources – imagination – ideas boards in Pinterest - create a few pages of small sketches that cover a range of things, using 5 or 6 different drawing techniques. - Print images BEFORE the lesson. Familiarise yourself with the artist’s work by visiting KSHSSAartdept Pinterest account: https://www.pinterest.co.uk/kshssa/ saved/ Create your own Pinterest board of source images – limit yourself to 12 images – be selective.	Explore/create studies from ideas, create a few pages which cover lots of different things – drawings, pictures, images you have collected: Focus on Gathering & Responding to sources. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Print out photo shoots and select more successful photographs. Explore scale, different approaches and techniques – getting a range of materials use Look to the designers you have studied for technical reference. Start to make early design ideas and studies from your source’s images. Revisit the first set of images and create new ones which are more specific. Start to make larger drawings and studies from your source’s images. Think about taking work onto the computer to ‘play’ and manipulate the colours and layouts.	Expand your range sheet – do something different, work on different medias. Why not create a page/pages which show you have experimented with lots of different materials / techniques / styles and approaches? Are you clear about what work you must do in the holiday? check with your teacher	Continue to experiment with materials, your ideas and continue working from direct sources Holiday work could be: Make another photoshoot – paint/draw from real life
